So this is an absolute game changer...

for you to attract work to you and for people to recommend you...

you need to show people how great of a carer you are!

So get to know people who will recommend you!

Show People You Are Amazing!

One thing we do constantly is to support people who we are caring for to things that will enhance their life.

For example we take people to:

- doctor appointments
- community lunches
- the local market
- church
- dementia social groups

And what happens in all these places?

You talk to people and make friends and demonstrate your caring skills!

Not only are you frequenting places that people who are likely to need care visit, you are also in touch with people who see people who need care.

And what eventually happens is when someone says they are struggling and need help, people will automatically think of that nice self employed carer that goes the extra mile...

... they think of and recommend you!

So if you have opportunity to support to such activities make sure you do so!

Not only will it enhance the life of the person you are supporting but it will enhance your business too, it's a double win!

Task:

Research potential clubs/groups/activities you can attend with your care client.
